the world was watching when footage of the tank man the lone chinese citizen blocking the passage of a column of tanks during the brutal 1989 crackdown on protesters in beijing s tiananmen square first appeared in the media the furtive video is now regarded as an iconic depiction of a government s violence against its own people throughout the twentieth century states across east asia committed many relatively undocumented atrocities with victims numbering in the millions the contributors to this insightful volume analyze many of the most notorious cases including the japanese army s okinawan killings in 1945 indonesia s anticommunist purge in 1965 1968 thailand s red drum incinerations in 1972 1975 cambodia s khmer rouge massacre in 1975 1978 korea s kwangju crackdown in 1980 the philippines mendiola incident in 1987 myanmar s suppression of the democratic movement in 1988 and china s tiananmen incident with in depth investigation of events that have long been misunderstood or kept hidden from public scrutiny state violence in east asia provides critical insights into the political and cultural dynamics of state sanctioned violence and discusses ways to prevent it in the future in infrastructures of impunity elizabeth f drexler argues that the creation and persistence of impunity for the perpetrators of the cold war indonesian genocide 1965 66 is not only a legal status but also a cultural and social process impunity for the initial killings and for subsequent acts of political violence has many elements bureaucratic military legal political educational and affective although these elements do not always work at once at times some are dormant while others are ascendant together they can be described as a unified entity a dynamic infrastructure whose existence explains the persistence of impunity for instance truth telling a first step in many responses to state violence did not undermine the infrastructure but instead bent to it creative and artistic responses to revelations about the past however have begun to undermine the infrastructure by countering its temporality affect and social stigmatization and demonstrating its contingency and specific actions policies and processes that would begin to dismantle it drexler contends that an infrastructure of impunity could take hold in an established democracy
